01 The timing map

Windows rank across the horizon. Each shows its dates, its state, the force in plain language, and the evidence behind it.

WINDOW	DATES	STATE	FORCE SUMMARY	EVIDENCE
Mercury/ Jupiter period	Jul 19 – Nov 16, 2026	 Caution	Jupiter steers due diligence and hidden matters from a weak position, which can slow or complicate deals even as Mercury’s strong hold on revenue and judgment keeps the season active. Progress is possible but paperwork and shared-capital questions may stall; treat this window as a time to review rather than to close.	Classical · Synthesis

WINDOW	DATES	STATE	FORCE SUMMARY	EVIDENCE
Mercury retrograde	Jul 19 – Jul 24, 2026	⚠ Caution	Mercury stations and moves in reverse through this span. Contracts, paperwork and messages want a second read before they go out.	Classical
Eclipse fortnight	Aug 12 – Aug 28, 2026	⚠ Caution	An eclipse pair brackets this fortnight. Visibility shifts; important moves prefer daylight on the other side of it.	Classical
Mercury retrograde	Oct 25 – Nov 14, 2026	⚠ Caution	Mercury stations and moves in reverse through this span. Contracts, paperwork and messages want a second read before they go out.	Classical
Mercury/Saturn period	Nov 16, 2026 – Jul 19, 2027	🟢 Favorable	Saturn drives long-arc expansion and public reputation from a strong position, and Mercury holds revenue and product judgment in equally good shape. Both lords point in a constructive direction, making this a reasonable season to advance negotiations, build market standing, and formalize deals.	Classical • Synthesis
Eclipse fortnight	Feb 06 – Feb 20, 2027	⚠ Caution	An eclipse pair brackets this fortnight. Visibility shifts; important moves prefer daylight on the other side of it.	Classical
Mercury retrograde	Feb 10 – Mar 04, 2027	⚠ Caution	Mercury stations and moves in reverse through this span. Contracts, paperwork and messages want a second read before they go out.	Classical

Current transits. Jupiter currently moves through Cancer; Saturn currently moves through Pisces. Read against the natal Moon in Scorpio. Classical

02 Identity

Halden Manufacturing Co. carries a Scorpio Moon in its company chart. This points to an organization built around concentrated effort, controlled information flow, and a tendency to operate beneath the surface rather than in front of it. Mercury rules the current mahadasha, which began in April 2018 and runs through mid-2028, placing contracts, records, and analytical work at the center of the company's operating rhythm during this stretch. The active antardasha belongs to Jupiter, the karaka of counsel and finance, which can open a season for advisory relationships and considered expansion, though outcomes are never certain. Saturn's period follows in November 2026, bringing the slower, structural qualities of discipline and labor into focus for the window ahead. Synthesis

03 The honest hard parts

Halden Manufacturing enters the Mercury/Jupiter caution window carrying real tension between ambitious expansion and the discipline that growth actually requires. Jupiter's counsel role can inflate plans faster than execution can follow, so over-commitment on contracts or advisory arrangements is a genuine risk through mid-November 2026. The Scorpio Moon adds pressure here: customer sentiment and cash rhythm can shift quietly before the numbers show it, leaving less reaction time than leadership expects. When Saturn's period opens in late 2026, the structural work gets harder before it gets better, particularly around labor agreements, process accountability, and the slower compounding that honest operational improvement demands. Synthesis

04 Working practices

Halden Manufacturing sits in a Mercury mahadasha, so contracts, records, and negotiation carry extra weight right now. Through November 2026, the Jupiter antardasha calls for review rather than rapid expansion: tighten agreements, get counsel in order, and hold off on large commitments until the picture clarifies. The Scorpio Moon in the company chart means customer sentiment and cash rhythm can shift quietly beneath the surface, so watch receivables and client signals closely during this consolidation window. When the Saturn period opens in November 2026, the tempo may suit steady, disciplined pushes: locking in longer-term supplier terms, building process infrastructure, and letting careful groundwork compound over the months ahead. Synthesis
